LIGHTNING, RAIL AND WIND.

Terrific Storm Does Great Damage in the Fruit Belt—One Man Killed.

Newburg, May 26.—The terrific lightning and wind storm yesterday, accompanied by hailstones as big as hazel nuts, did great damage to fruit hereabouts. Trees and fences were destroyed and bridges carried away by floods, trolley traffic was shut off for eight hours, and persons were struck and one man killed. The victim was John Rogers, a farmhand, who lived at Sevilton, a bolt having struck his umbrella as he was passing along the road.

George Hoar, superintendent at Mrs. Coe's place in New Windsor, was under a shed which was hit. He was unconscious an hour, but is expected to recover. A fallen trolley wire killed one of a team of horses and narrowly escaped killing the driver.

Another terrific storm occurred this afternoon, and a large fire was burning north of the city at 5 o'clock, supposed to have been started by the lightning.

Port Jervis, N. Y., May 26.—Yesterday afternoon and to-night this region was visited by severe electric storms. A cloudburst in the mountains, twelve miles north of here, late yesterday afternoon caused a landslide at Hartwood, on the Monticello division of the Ontario and Western Railroad, just as a passenger train was going up the mountain from Port Jervis. The train was caught in the slide and imprisoned. Some of the passengers stayed all night in neighboring farmhouses, and others remained in the cars. This afternoon they were driven in wagons to Monticello.

In the Herkimer Valley below Hartwood the cloudburst overflowed Pine Kill Creek, causing the inhabitants along the stream to flee to high ground. Five highway bridges on this creek were carried away. No trains have been run between here and Kingston to-day, by reason of washouts on the Summitville division of the Ontario and Western.

To-night's storm was accompanied by hail. The light of burning structures set on fire by lightning is visible to-night.

Poughkeepsie, May 26.—A severe electrical storm passed over this city this afternoon, and it was followed by a second storm in the evening. The rain lasted less than

PHYSICAL CULTURE GIRLS.

Commencement in a Gymnasium and Diplomas in Athletics.

Nineteen young women of the graduating class of the New York Normal School of Physical Education had their commencement exercises last night at the Dr. Savage Institute on West Fifty-ninth street. They furnished an entertainment that was very pleasing and highly appreciated by the assembly in the gymnasium. This gymnasium is not a large one and it was very full. Every member of the class had her own place, and the result was that after the exercises the girls were crowded to the balcony and the main floor had been crowded to its utmost with the girls. The girls in the graduating class were bewitching costumes of white shirtwaists, red knickerbockers, black stockings of the gamut kind and dainty slippers. They had to work hard swinging clubs, dumbbells and wands, vaulting horses, fencing and dancing and in spite of all their work they succeeded in keeping their hair from falling down. They all got diplomas.

EELS TAINT THE WATER.

Water Department Men Go Fishing in Bronx Mains.

Residents of Mount Hope and Tremont appealed to the Water Department recently to get the dead catfish and eels out of the water pipes. The request seemed reasonable, and a gang went to work yesterday to clean out the pipes. The eels got into the valves of the small pipes connected with the large mains and die there, clogging up the passage and tainting the water. One of the foremen in charge of the work said yesterday that the fish came from the High Bridge reservoir. He said that it would be several days before the water could be made clear, and that in the mean time people had better boil the water.

BOAT BLOWS UP; 10 KILLED.

Boiler Explosion Demolishes a Towing Steamer Near Louisville.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 26.—Ten persons were killed, two fatally injured and five slightly hurt by a boiler explosion which demolished the towboat Fred Wilson off River View Park to-day. The dead are: Capt. Joseph Price, Pittsburg; William Holland, Braddock, Pa.; William Quinn, Steward, Pittsburg; Clifford Johnson, Tyrone, Pa.; Albert Miller, pilot, Pittsburg; Sherman Shiller, second engineer, Pittsburg; cook, name unknown; Joseph Warren colored, Middleport, Ohio; William Thornton colored, Middleport, Ohio, and Patrick, part of body found on coal boat. Those fatally injured are Emma Williamson, chambermaid, burned; J. Letter-sold, deckhand, Wellburg, W. Va., and the Wilson was the property of the Monongahela Coal and Coke Company and left Pittsburg last Friday with six barges.

twelve coal boats and four boats, bound for Louisville. She arrived here about midnight, but proceeded down the river and was about to tie up when the explosion occurred.

The cause of the accident is not known. Chief Engineer T. A. Walker said later that the steam gauge showed the pounds less than the boiler's allowance, and that there was plenty of water in the boiler. Walker was blown through a hatchway into the river and swam back to the sinking boat.

Lightning Starts a Fire and Puts It Out. SARATOGA, May 26.—Jerry Crandall, who occupies a cottage in the town of Ballston, has the champion lightning story he averts that late yesterday afternoon, when a thunder and lightning storm visited this section, and while the members of his household were visiting neighbors, a lightning bolt ripped through the kitchen floor of the Crandall cottage, set fire to the wood work and smashed a big jar, the water from which put out the flames.
